

Introducing Mr. Oliver Towne (ALL OVER TOWN)

I don't think I need an introduction to many of you. Most of you have met me before. Those who have been help-less and those who have been job-less, those who have something to sell, rent, buy or barter, know me pretty well. They know where to find me when they want me—on the Want Ad Page of this paper—and they call for me there when they need me.

I'm probably the most "paged" man in town. Why I'm introducing myself again is just a matter of advertising. I believe in it. Whatever you have to offer in property, service or usefulness I believe should be advertised—so I advertise myself because I am of great service and usefulness to everybody at some time or another.

I want you to remember me--remember that my line is disposing of what you have to offer at five cents per line and I'll do a thorough and satisfying job—carrying your message into every shop, store, home and office all-over town.
